

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

EXPLORERS HALL

---

Schedule of Events

November—December 1984

Special Events

November 19-
December 9

Kodak International Newspaper Snapshot Awards

December 14-
February 17

The Enchanting World of Doll Houses and Miniatures

These tiny creations include a Victorian house, a tinsmith shop, a bakery, a classic Williamsburg house, every detail of a living room on Christmas morning, and a working grandfather clock, eight inches tall. Thousands of pieces go into more than two dozen enchanting settings.

Opens
December 18

American Society of Magazine Photographers 40th Anniversary Exhibit

International tour of the world's best photography for advertising, corporate, and editorial media.

Through
Easter 1985

Mary Rose—Henry VIII's Lost Warship

On July 19, 1545, the Tudor warship Mary Rose sank while en route to engage the French. This Tudor time capsule features armament, personal items of the crew, wooden bowls, a tabor pipe, pewter plates, a compass, and a full-size statue of Henry VIII.

Coming Soon

Great Rivers of the World

An exhibit on the National Geographic's new book that explores the effect of rivers on the lives of people and the land.

Mini TV Theater
Educational Film Series

Nov. 5 - 11

Nuclear Energy: The Question Before Us

12 - 18

Reflecting on the Moon

19 - 25

It's About Time

26 - Dec. 2

On The Nose

3 - 9

Listen! Hear!

10 - 16

Learning to See

17 - 23

A Matter of Taste

24 - 30

In Touch with the World

30 - Jan. 6

Money: Summing It Up